

Back-to-School Fair

The Back-to-School fair hosted by the State Treasurer's Office on Saturday, July 15th at the East Las Vegas Library was a tremendous success! Our goal for this event was not only to provide resources to the Las Vegas community, but to also work with members of our community. During the fair, backpacks and school supplies were provided to over 900 students, as well as free haircuts, immunizations, and vision screenings provided by our community partners! We thank our community partners for their participation and support, and we thank attendees for their time!

Women + Money: The Financial Empowerment Summit

The 2023 Women + Money Summit held on March 22nd was organized by the Nevada State Treasurer's Office for women of all ages, cultures, and financial situations to learn and grow together. A total of 275 attendees were at Meet LV for the first summit in over 10 years! Our keynote speaker for the day was Sandra Douglass Morgan, President of the Las Vegas Raiders, a Las Vegas native and the first African American President of an NFL team.

The day began with introductions from the State Treasurer's Office and soon opened into three breakout sessions to showcase the talent and expertise of each attendee. The day's discussions included leadership, financial planning, constituent services, entrepreneurship, etc, followed by workshops referencing relevant concepts.

Each session and the respective speakers contributed thoughtful insight to assist women leaders as they navigate the complexities of financial security. The State Treasurer's Office is delighted at the success of our first Women + Money Summit this year, and is excited to share our anticipation for the 2024 Women + Money Summit. We thank all speakers and attendees for the support, save the date for March 2024! The 2023 sessions and information is still available at: www.nvigate.gov/WomenandMoney.
