

Back to School Fair

In August, the Nevada Treasury proudly hosted its third annual Back to School Fair at Rancho High School in Southern Nevada. The event aimed to provide families with essential resources and supplies for the new school year, including school supplies, haircuts, vaccination vouchers, and dental, vision, and medical screenings. This year, we were pleased to serve more than 1,200 students and their families.

The event was made possible through collaboration with numerous local exhibitors who generously contributed raffle prizes, giveaways, and supplies. Students enjoyed a variety of engaging activities such as games and face painting, while families attended an informative presentation on saving for college.

A special thank you goes to Marcos Diaz and our barbershop volunteers from Certified Barbershop who stayed an hour after the event to ensure every student left with a new haircut. The Nevada Treasury was delighted to commence the new school year alongside the supportive community, dedicated exhibitors, and the committed team at Rancho High School.

Kenny C. Guinn Memorial Scholarship Update

In July, the Nevada Treasury was proud to announce the recipients of the Kenny C. Guinn Memorial Scholarship. Every year this scholarship is awarded to four Nevada college seniors majoring in elementary or secondary education who have the intent to teach in Nevada. The 2024 recipients of the Kenny C. Guinn Scholarship are: Amelie May, Lesly Diaz Perez, Mackenzie Baack and Riley Wargo.

Each recipient has a record of community service and high academic achievement, and our office is happy to support them in their journey. To learn more about the Kenny C. Guinn Scholarship, please visit: <https://nvigate.gov/programs/kenny-c-guinn-memorial-scholarship/>
